Director, Office of Cabinet
Administration
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Craig:

Thank you very much for your letter of March 27th. The incident that happened this week was one that disturbed everyone very much and hopefully in the future we will never have to go through anything like this again. We all prayed very much for the President and, thank God, he is recovering and will be back with us. Those that know him know what a great person he is and how much the country needs him.

My purpose in meeting with the President, first of all, is primarily that I haven't had the opportunity to do so since the election and furthermore to discuss with him the approach that I believe we should be taking with the Japanese since my background has given me the knowledge and experience of negotiating with the Japanese of many, many years. At any rate, whenever that opportunity should occur, I would more than welcome it.

If you have the opportunity, please send my personal regards to the President and tell him how pleased I am that he has recovered and that our dear friend, Jim Brady, is making the miraculous progress he is making. Also, please send my personal regards to Mike Deaver and tell him that I am looking forward to meeting with him whenever the opportunity should arise.

Best personal regards,

Max Hugel
Deputy Director

Dear Max:

The President appreciated receiving your letter. However, we have simply been unable to schedule the visit that you requested. My delay in responding to your letter is due only to the fact that I continued to carry it with me to the scheduling meetings in hopes we might accommodate you.

Mike Deaver and I discussed the matter and it looks for now as if such a meeting will have to wait. I hope you understand.

Sincerely,

Craig L. Fuller
Director
Office of Cabinet

Dear Max:

Thanks for the interesting information on U.S. auto exports to Japan. It will be useful.

Best regards,
